? Bruce Godfrey joined us to talk about Metadata workshops provided by grants

Metadata Workshops:

Metadata workshops through Bruce Godfrey with UofI are provided by grants. Bruce is presenting a metadata workshop at ISU the day after GIS day in Pocatello. Betty and Becky will be working on setting up a SW Idaho and Northern Idaho workshop as well.

Presentations on metadata can be hands on or lecture format. Also the workshop can range from conceptual and beginner level to advanced, including workflow implementation.

There are locations that can be at no charge, UofI locations and possibly the tax commission.

Opportunity to raise money for our local chapter also is available by hosting the workshop. This would be discounted to members.

URISA Workshops:

URISA workshops can be hosted for approximately $1500 - $2000. They can be offered at a discounted rate to members. Possibly a way to make money for our local chapter, provide training opportunities to local GIS Professionals, and show what National URISA has to offer as a professional organization.

URISA workshop credits to our local chapter can be awarded by National URISA by submitting a plan to promote membership to URISA, and then submitting a follow through report.
